

Many charities and not-for-profits reach a point where their financial complexity has grown beyond what a finance manager can cover alone – but a full-time CFO isn't the right fit. De Valore exists to fill that gap. Founded by Laura Flanagan CA, De Valore provides strategic finance expertise to charities, not-for-profits and purpose-driven organisations – through ongoing CFO-level leadership, focused project work, or building the capability of your own team. Clients work directly with a senior finance professional who understands the sector, its obligations, and what good financial leadership looks like in practice.
